QUAKE SHAKES A MOUNTAIN DOWN

Smoke Pours From Hill, Which Then Collapses With Thunderous Roar.

BUILDINGS WRECKED AND PEOPLE KILLED

Many Japanese Temples Ruined and Death List, Now Said to Number Thirty, Will Probably Be Greatly Lengthened When Full Reports Are Secured.

TOKIO, August 15.—Reports received to-day concerning the earthquake in Central Japan on Saturday afternoon show that there were a number of fatalities and that great damage was done to property. The number of dead at present is said to be thirty, but it is feared that the list will be greatly lengthened when the full reports are secured.

The shock occurred at 3:30 o'clock, and affected a wide area in the Shiga and Gifu prefectures. The town of Otsuka, in Gifu, suffered terribly. The banks of the Hida River there broke and the surrounding country was inundated. The people of the district fled to high ground and remained in the open all night. Intermittent shocks were felt throughout Saturday night and early this morning.

The mountain, looking a short distance west of Gifu, emitted smoke in the early stages of the earthquake, and then collapsed with a thunderous roar. The formation of the mountain was completely changed.

Slight damage was done at Nagoya, to the southwest of Gifu, and at neighboring villages.

CLEAR UP A MYSTERY

Patients Were Not Boiled to Death, but Died of Pellagra.

PEORIA, ILL., August 15.—Two mysterious cases in which patients at the Bartonville Insane Asylum were said to have been boiled to death in 1901 and 1902 in a bath tub by careless attendants, were cleared up to-day by the announcement by Dr. C. H. Lavinder, of the United States Marine hospital corps, that they evidently died of pellagra.

That peculiar disease, mostly due to use of uncooked corn, caused the body to assume an appearance similar to one that has been scalded to death. The fact that both patients died in a bath tub full of water is said to have been a mere coincidence.

Dr. Lavinder found forty cases of pellagra in the Bartonville Asylum, confirming the diagnosis of Superintendent Zeller and State Health Commissioner Egan.

Dr. Zeller to-day issued an order forbidding the use of corn at the hospital until arrangements are made for thoroughly drying all corn products brought there.

In 1904 a patient died in a bath tub at the hospital and the books show "boiled to death." The case created excitement throughout the State. The patient "boiled to death" in 1907 was in charge of Anna Newton, a nurse, who, for alleged negligence, was discharged. Dr. Zeller yesterday recalled this nurse, and she is preparing to renew her work.

BAT RUNS PAY-WITHIN CAR

Doors Tightly Closed, It Keeps Passengers Ducking.

DARBY, PA., August 15.—All kinds of excitement prevailed on Friday night at the Darby terminus of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, caused by a bat which flew into a "pay-within" car and then, once in, could not find its way out.

The car was crowded, and the bat's appearance caused a small panic among women passengers, who grabbed their hair in both hands, screamed and climbed upon the seats.

Several men attempted to capture the bat, but their efforts added only to the confusion. The bat was finally shot by a man who was sitting in the car. The bat was then taken to the city hall, where it was killed.

Finally some one shouted out to open the tightly closed doors of the car, which was hurriedly done, and the bat sailed out.

BOY MURDERED IN PARK

Accidental Discovery of Wound Prevented Fear of Suicide.

BALTIMORE, MD., August 15.—The dead body of Stephen Dembinski, eighteen years old, was found in Carroll Park, near Gwynn's Falls, this morning. Over a bullet wound in the breast, the boy had been thrown, apparently by the flash of a pistol.

This led a coroner's jury sitting to-night to conclude that the youth had committed suicide, though the pistol used could not be found, and there was no one who had been with him. Dembinski is known to have had about $20 when last seen alive by friends.

The coroner was about to make out the papers and turn the body over to an undertaker when, happening to place his hand back of Dembinski's head, he discovered what appears to be another bullet wound. About this there is nothing to indicate that it was fired at very close range. An autopsy will be held to-morrow.

This statement was made by Howard M. Pearl, who is quoted as having said he was with Dembinski on Thursday night and until noon on Friday, when he left him with two men, who are unknown to Pearl, in Camden Station.

MANY PELLAGRA PATIENTS

Imported Disease on the Increase in the South.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—There is more pellagra in the country now than at any time since the new disease was discovered, and from information received it apparently is on the increase, especially in the South.

This statement was made by Surgeon-General Wyman, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, yesterday, when asked concerning the visit of Dr. Lavinder, the pellagra expert, to Peoria, Ill., where the disease is believed to have developed at the Illinois Insane Asylum.

Dr. Wyman stated that Dr. Lavinder was sent to that institution in response to a request from the authorities there, who have under observation about fifty patients believed to be affected with the disease. Dr. Lavinder will confirm the diagnosis of the pellagra as an erythematous affection of the skin, with severe constitutional and nervous symptoms, endemic in Northern Italy.

Criticism American Tariff

PARIS, August 15.—The Journal Des Debats, commenting on the tariff situation growing out of the enactment of the new law in the United States, agrees that reprisals on the part of France would be useless, but the man in the street alone would pay the cost of a tariff war in increased prices. The newspaper says the new American tariff increases the cost of necessities in the American market.

WARSHIPS HASTEN TO MUZZLE CRETE

Four Great Nations Sending Big Force to Give Little Island a Spanking.

GREEK FLAG STILL FLYING AT CANEA

Demonstrations in Constantinople Continue, but Fleet Is Held Back—Athens Press Warns Cretans Not to Show Defiance to Protecting Powers.

LONDON, August 15.—A peaceful solution of the Cretan situation appeared practically to have been reached last week through the intervention of the four protecting powers and the scrupulously correct attitude adopted by the Greek government in its diplomatic intercourse with Turkey.

The Young Turk party plainly mistrusts the present Turkish ministry, and fears that the country will lose suzerainty of Crete, as she has lost that of Bulgaria.

As a result of the refusal of the population of Crete to haul down the Greek flag, which was raised when the troops of Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia, recently evacuated the island, the powers have ordered warships to Crete and probably will occupy the islands in order to force compliance with their wishes.

Italy Sends Warships.

ROME, August 15.—The Italian cruisers Francesco Ferruccio, Varese, Giuseppe Garibaldi and Giovanni Bausan, sailed to-day for Crete and will be followed late to-night by the battleships Regina Elena, Napoli and Vittorio Emanuele III.

Preparing to Sail.

Flag Still Flying.

CANEA, ISLAND OF CRETE, August 15.—The British battleship Swiftsure arrived to-day in Suda Bay, in the western portion of the island. The Cretan government has resigned and the administration of the island has been entrusted to provisional committees. The latter have had the armed peasants expelled from the fortress, which they occupy on Saturday night, intending to resist the order of the powers that the Greek flag be lowered. The committees, however, have not had the flag hauled down.

Demonstrations Against Greeks.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 15.—The Turkish fleet remains at Smyrna, the government on the advice of the owners having postponed sending it to Crete. The boycott and the demonstrations against Greeks continue to spread.

Advise Lowering of Flag.

ATHENS, August 15.—The entire press in Greece advises the Cretans to lower the Greek flag over the fortress at Canea, and not show defiance to the protecting powers.

Additional imported workmen to the number of 300 were taken into the company's plant to-day and 500 more were expected to arrive here to-night. An endeavor will be made to-morrow by the company to resume operations with the 1,000 men brought in for that purpose.

CREWS HAVE DAY OF REST

SINK BIG LINER TO PUT FIRE OUT

Flames Extinguished, Vessel Is Refloated and Towed Away for Repairs.

ALL-NIGHT FIGHT TO SAVE LUCANIA

Blaze Gradually Worked Forward from Saloon Kitchen, Reaching Steerage and Consuming All Woodwork in Its Path—Damage Will Be Heavy.

LIVERPOOL, August 15.—The Cunard steamer Lucania lies sunk, merged to-night, at Huskisson dock, seriously damaged, having been almost gutted from her funnels forward by fire, which broke out on board the liner at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening. The flames are supposed to have originated in the saloon kitchen, but gradually worked forward until they reached the steerage, consuming every particle of the woodwork there and then playing havoc with the forehold. Some of the plates of the vessel were warped.

Vessel Flooded.

At 3 o'clock this morning it was decided to flood the vessel by admitting water into her forward dock. Soon she heeled over and her funnels came in contact with the cranes on the dock and were badly damaged. A fleet of tugs then was brought into requisition, and pulled the liner upright and held her until she settled firmly on the mud bottom.

Now Floats Again.

Lucania was refloated with the aid of salvage tugs and powerful pumps. She will be dry-docked and towed to Glasgow for repairs.

According to some reports the fire first broke out in the stowage hold, galley, but was quickly extinguished by the ship's officers. A half-hour later there was another outbreak in the port kitchen, and while the fire brigade was dealing with this, a fierce blaze broke out first in the steerage and forepeak.

Despondent Mother Kills Herself and Three Little Boys.

CHICAGO, August 15.—Mrs. Marie Handel to-day turned on the gas in a bath room and killed herself and her three boys, aged three, four and five, and dressed her three children, one four years old and twins two years old, and carried them into the room. She then closed the door and turned on the gas. The smell of gas awakened her husband. He broke open the door and found the mother and her three dead bodies. The twins, wrapped in a quilt, were lying in the tub, while the elder boy was clasped tightly in the mother's arms.

Former Suffering With Three Bullets in Body; Latter in Jail.

ORANGE, TEX., August 15.—E. H. Rice and his sister-in-law, Mrs. A. Smith, engaged in a street duel with revolvers to-day, following a dispute over domestic troubles, and as a result the former is lying at his home with three bullets in his body and the latter is in jail. Mrs. Rice and her sister, Mrs. Smith, were at the Rice home when Mrs. Rice announced her intention of leaving her husband. He followed the two women to the street, armed with a pistol, and the duel began. Shots were exchanged until the two women took refuge in a building. Rice fainted from loss of blood. One bullet penetrated the shoulder, another the head and a third the neck.

SURE SHE'LL KILL HUSBAND

Therefore Mrs. Cosco Begs to Be Committed to Asylum.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., August 15.—Mrs. Marie Cosco, a comely woman of twenty-five, walked into police headquarters yesterday afternoon and begged to be committed to the State Hospital for the Insane. She said she was certain she would kill her husband if she was not committed to an asylum. Although she believed he loved her, her love for him had turned to hatred.

Six years ago Mrs. Cosco became jealous of her husband and jumped in front of an Erie Railroad train. It was then believed she was insane, and she was deported to Italy by the United States immigration, adding that there is no reason for it. She will probably be deported again.

NEW MURDER SETS CHINATOWN WILD

Chin Len, Americanized Oriental, Finds Young Wife Brutally Slain in Room.

CHOKED AND THEN STABBED TO DEATH

Husband Had Been Out of House but Few Hours, and Returned Early in Morning to Discover Bloody Body Lying on Floor.

NEW YORK, August 15.—Chinatown boiled over again early to-day on the discovery of the murder of the most beautiful of the few Chinese women in New York, Bow Kim, twenty-one years old, who came here from San Francisco about a year ago with an Americanized Chinaman, Chin Len, thirty-one years of age.

It was about 3 o'clock this morning, just as the usual Saturday night revels were quieting down, that Chin Len dashed out of a tenement house at 17 Mott Street, crying: "My woman has been murdered."

Much Excitement.

The street filled with loitering Chinamen and parties of American "sightseers," all of whom quickly reached the sensational murder of Elsie Sigel, the missionary girl, was thrown into instant excitement.

The police hurried into the house under Len's direction. The murdered woman lay on the floor of a bedroom stabbed in half a dozen places. Her slender neck was ringed with bloody finger marks, indicating a struggle with her assailant. Beside her lay a crumpled hunting knife. It was evident that she had been dead two or three hours.

One the stairs were found traces of blood and also on a door leading to the store of Yuen Chin & Company, on the second floor. There were no signs of blood on the stairs, although there were several marks of blood on the floor of the room where the murder took place. Six American women, who declared themselves to be the wives of Chinamen, were found in the house and arrested, but none would admit any knowledge of Bow Kim's death. In the murdered woman's room were many business letters in Chinese, but none that gave a clue.

Found Body on Floor.

Len's account of himself was that he had spent the early evening with his wife. Returning at 2 o'clock in the morning he found the body on the floor. He touched it, he said, his hands with blood, which, in turn, smeared the door and stairway, as he hurried to the street.

No formal charge has been preferred against Len, but he is held in $5,000 bail as a "material witness."

CONGESTION IN BIG CITIES

Discovering Many Single-Room "House-Keeping Apartments" in Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, August 15.—American cities are pronounced twenty-five years behind progressive Germany in a bulletin issued to-day by the committee on congestion of population in New York. The worst evils of unsanitary and crowded houses are to be found, according to the bulletin, in New York, Chicago, a close and gaining second, and Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland following in their order named.

The most crowded block in New York had a density in 1901 of slightly more than 100,000 people. It was reported as containing 200 inhabitants.

Philadelphia has less congestion to the acre, because there are fewer five and six-story apartment houses, but in one block there were found 100 single-room "housekeeping apartments."

"To call such a habitation a home is a mockery. There is no home life and no privacy possible," says the bulletin.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 15.—Standing six feet seven inches in his stockings, J. C. Childress, a cattle raiser of Virginia, was unable to stretch out long enough to allow him to sleep last night until a special couch was secured for him at the Hotel Fredonia.

MAY CHECK RELIEF SHIP

Icebergs and Flood Along Labrador Coast Still Very Dangerous.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., August 15.—The continued presence of icebergs, and along the northern section of the Labrador coast, as reported here to-day by vessels arriving from Labrador, may seriously hamper the Peary relief ship Jeanie. There are no fears for her safety, but it is believed that the Jeanie will be considerably delayed in her arrival at Etah, Greenland, the Peary base. She has as yet been but twelve days on her voyage, having left here on August 3.

DEATH OF YOUNG POWELL

Son of Honorable Man Killed by Automobile at Camp Perry.

CAMP PERRY, O., August 15.—In the Tenth United States Infantry Camp this afternoon, exercises were held over the body of Private C. S. Powell, Jr., Company F, who was killed by a machine gun just before the camp on Friday night. The regiment escorted the body to the station, where "taps" were sounded as the train moved away, carrying the body to Roanoke, Va. The young man's father is C. S. Powell, a merchant of that city.

Powell had been in camp but a few days with his comrades. The accident happened between Camp Perry and Port Clinton. Powell was walking along with three fellow-soldiers—Privates Craig, Greenwell and Blake—all of Company F. They heard the automobile coming, and as Powell started to step in its way his companions called to him to come back. A moment later he was struck and hurled twenty feet, and was unconscious when picked up. His skull and other bones about his body were badly broken. The machine stopped and two passengers alighted. The injured man was carried immediately to the field hospital, but died a short time later without regaining consciousness.

FIERCE WAR TO RAGE TO-DAY

Blue and Red Will Be in Thick of Frenzy Before Many Hours.

BOSTON, August 15.—A bridge-deploying expedition to hamper the movements of the army of the red and the capture of a private of the invading force were the most warlike features to-day in the work of the army of the blue. In camp near Bridgewater, defending Boston from an attack from the south in the mimic war game, the original plans for a strong Sunday, which had been laid by Governor Eben S. Draper and Brigadier-General William A. Few, were of no avail because of the postponement of hostilities last night.

Every regimental headquarters, however, to-night received marching orders, and the indications pointed to a general advance before morning.

The lighter side of "war" was pictured in the camp near Bridgewater with the initiation of the recruits and the entertainment of thousands of visitors.

SULTAN TO SPAIN'S RESCUE

Will Quell Revolt in Rif Region Without Aid From Madrid.

FEZ, MOROCCO, August 15.—General Bagdadli, commander of the Sultan's troops, left to-day for the Rif region, bearing the Sultan's orders that the tribesmen cease attacking the Spaniards. At the same time the Sultan instructed the Moroccan special embassy at Madrid to advise the Spanish government to-day for Bagdadli's mission, and to request that General Marina, the Spanish commander in Morocco, be ordered to refrain from making an offensive movement against the tribesmen. The Sultan requested the embassy to assure the Spanish government that a sudden attack by the Rif troops would be sent to pacify the Rif region without the aid of Spanish troops.

At the same time the Sultan instructed the Moroccan special embassy at Madrid to advise the Spanish government to-day for Bagdadli's mission, and to request that General Marina, the Spanish commander in
